

DWIGHT KURT SCHRUTE

SENIOR QUALITY ANALYST

A 1-star review is not emotion. It is evidence.

● LIFESTYLE & VALUES

Strong emphasis on discipline, consistency, and accountability. Values data integrity and reproducibility over speed. Prefers structured workflows and clearly defined systems. Believes every decision should be supported by evidence and metrics.

BIO

38-year-old "Assistant to the Regional Manager" turned App Quality Enforcer working remotely from Schrute Farms. Dwight obsessively analyzes mobile app reviews, believing every rating is a battlefield of truth vs incompetence. He distrusts vague feedback and is deeply committed to extracting signal from noise in user reviews.

MOTIVATION

Rooting out incompetence in app reviews with surgical precision. Dwight is driven by an unwavering duty to expose false negatives, punish lazy raters, and elevate quality standards across every platform—no exceptions.

MEDIA CONSUMPTION

- › App store review forums and developer changelogs.
- › Academic papers on survey bias and data validity.
- › Beet farming podcasts—for mental clarity.

CHALLENGES

- › Filtering emotional, non-evidence-based 1-star reviews from legitimate bug reports.
- › Convincing teams that his 47-step QA protocol is non-negotiable.
- › Maintaining objectivity when reviewers spell "definitely" wrong.

PRODUCT PREFERENCES

- › Structured review dashboards with sortable severity fields.
- › Reproducible bug report templates with mandatory steps-to-reproduce.
- › Analytics tools that flag review patterns—not just averages.
